Colin has been sculpting since he was a child and has scars to prove it. He is now a renowned local sculptor specialising in traditional figurative pieces, highlighting emotional states and expressions. Colins work can be seen at many Kent sculpture garden events through-out the year and is on permanent display in the Front Room Gallery and the garden at the Polka Dot which he owns he is a co-founder of Swale Arts a local group of visual artists promoting The Arts within Swale and is treasureur for the Swale Arts Forum.

Colin works in clay, wood, bronze, glass and stone. Although he will and does sculpt any material available to him. He teaches carving during the summer at the gallery and welcomes commissions.
